

Schools gigabit broadband

The DfE has today published guidance on Schools gigabit broadband, a government-funded programme to ensure that all schools in England will be able to access a fibre connection, by the end of 2030.

The DfE are currently working to identify appropriate schools and will from September 2006 begin contacting schools that meet DfE requirements.

Please alert your schools to the guidance, which can be accessed via the following link: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/schools-gigabit-broadband>
